Let me please take a moment to thank you properly for the continuous scientific, technical and personal support that led to the realization of my website.

What a journey it has been. Between my busy specialty practice and more and more demanding lecturing schedule, you patiently provided us with many original ideas, and with a little bit of “dental” guidance from myself and my wife Deanna, you put together something very special for us. If it wasn't for you, I most likely wouldn't have a site today, never mind one that actually works and allows my current and prospective patients to get the information they need rapidly and effectively without becoming overwhelmed.

I have particularly enjoyed the creative process of putting my site together, working with Tania in choosing ways to reflect in a very elegant and dynamic way the very unique nature of the services I provide without making everything appear too medical or technical. John's amazing computer science knowledge allows me to this day to keep modifying the content to better represent my practice's day-to-day activities.

Again John and Tania, thank you.

Warm regards from the Rocky Mountains,
Jean-Francois Bedard
